Teachers put-forth efforts to keep themselves updated professionally through

In house discussions on current developments and issues in education Sharing information with colleagues and with other institutions on policies and regulations

Subhash Anna Kul College of education allows the faculty members to attend orientation, refresher course, the induction training program, workshops, seminars, and symposium hosted by government and nongovernment organizations. Following these programs, the institution offers faculty development program through IQAS (Internal Quality Assurance Cell) in the form of seminars, where professors may exchange their experience with their colleagues. Staff members are also permitted to act as resource persons in seminars, workshop, and other events at the university, colleges, and schools, and they also participate in college activities as resource person. Staff members are encouraged by the principal to deliver papers in national, international, and state-level conferences and workshops, for this reason, teachers can avail duty leave. The administration provides support and encourages book writing and article writing, are also encouraged to publish their articles in reputed journals. They write chapters for edited books and research papers as well. Institution also publishes research journal namely "The educational spectrum", which is joint effort of all the staff of college. The usage of cutting-edge technology is encouraged for all academic members. They have access to the computer lab and the internet, which they may use to stay informed about the most recent developments in their field and in education. Faculty members are allowed to do academic tasks including assessment, paper settings, invigilation of exam's, etc. Each year, the Pune University assigns a few of our faculty members serve on several special duties like coordinator of skills in teaching, syllabus revision, flying squad during the university exams, external examiner for viva-voce and member of selection panel, Board of studies, Academic council etc. The institute promotes the staff improve their qualification for professional or career growth. The faculty members are free to take advantage of the chance to pursue higher education through FDF (Faculty development program). The institution felicitates the faculty member when they get an honour. The institution's management honours the performance of the teacher educator by giving awards each year. In meeting and through the public address system, the finest performance is also recognised. The principal also encourages staff members to pursue PhD. All these kind of facilities and exposure provided to them helps the teacher to grow professionally and keep themselves updated with the new education trends.
